

March 19, 2019

MEDIA ALERT

Contact: Russ Curtis, russ@birdrescue.org 415-533-1357

Finding Wisdom on Midway Atoll

Presentation on Seabirds March 28 at Brower Center in Berkeley

What: Special Event: Albatross Adventures: Finding Wisdom on Midway Atoll Please RSVP

When: Thursday, March 28, 2019 at 7:00 PM

Where: David Brower Center, 2150 Allston Way, Berkeley, CA 94704 Map

The public is invited on March 28 in Berkeley, CA to learn more about seabirds in the Bay Area and throughout the world!

This engaging evening will feature JD Bergeron, Executive Director of International Bird Rescue as he shares an inspiring presentation about his recent journey to Midway Atoll National Wildlife Refuge, which hosts the largest albatross colony on the planet.

JD was one of only 18 individuals tasked with conducting the 2019 nesting albatross census, and he will tell you more about the experience and what it means for Bird Rescue and seabirds going forward.

6:45: guest check-in

7:00 - 8:30: multimedia presentation

International Bird Rescue is a Bay Area-based nonprofit that was founded in 1971 in response to one of the most significant oil spills in California history. Our first wildlife hospital and headquarters was located in Berkeley, and today we specialize in seabird rehabilitation worldwide.

While your tickets are complimentary, donations are always appreciated.

Reservations are required to attend. Adults only please. RSVP here

Questions? Please call our San Francisco Bay-Delta Wildlife Center office at (707) 207-0380 ext. 100.

All seating in the Goldman Theater is first-come, first-served. If you require ADA accommodation, please contact events@browercenter.org in advance of the event.

Transportation/parking options:

Parking is available under the building at the Oxford Garage 2165 Kittredge St, Berkeley, CA 94704.

It is a 5-minute walk from the Downtown Berkeley BART station